

The Federal Communications Commission proposes changes to a rule regarding unsolicited faxes that will severely limit non-profit associations ability to communicate with its our own members! The proposed rule change, although directed at unsolicited faxed advertising, also reaches into the realm of nonprofit associations. If the rule goes into effect, non-profit associations will be required to have on file the written permission of members prior to sending them a fax.

Would request that this be amended to help with this problem.